

Performance Commentary

The fund delivered solid absolute performance in May as company-specific catalysts unfolded and the rotation into value assets became more pronounced. Several portfolio companies reported solid earnings for the quarter, including our beverage producer Stock Spirits, where volumes increased solidly with off-trade sales compensating for the weaker on-trade environment. Our communications provider Avaya also delivered strong numbers and has proved to be a winner in the current remote working environment. Fortuna Silver was the top performer in May, as silver prices have re-rated higher with gold and the company is moving towards production status for its Lindero asset, which will increase gold exposure. We closed our position in Disney, following a re-rating to our target price. We initiated one new position: US-based cement and wallboard producer Eagle Materials. We believe the company has a unique advantage being positioned in the middle of the US and shielded from import pressure in Heavy Materials. It is also a primary beneficiary of increased US infrastructure spending. We added to our positions in US-based Citizens Financial and South Korean KB Financial as valuations are highly attractive. We scaled down our positions in Telecom Italia and China Unicom as we see better risk/reward elsewhere.
