Performance Commentary

January's increased market volatility continued into February with most broad global indices registering negative returns for the month as a whole. EM equities were supported by strong inflows and performed ahead of their developed market peers.

Kon-Tiki performed broadly in line with its benchmark driven by strong reported 2017 results at Brazilian bank Banrisul, a rebound in traditional Chinese medicine producer China Shineway, which is coming back onto investors' radar, and good performance at Swedish telecom equipment company Ericsson, which recovered on the back of further stake-building by activist investor Cevian. In terms of portfolio headwinds, the biggest detractors were State Bank of India, Brazilian food retailer CBD and Mahindra & Mahindra.

We did not initiate or fully exit any positions in February but continued to increase our exposure to recent purchases such as Aeroflot, Sinotrans and Bank of China. We also trimmed a number of strong performers including Gree, Banrisul and Johannesburg Stock Exchange. The portfolio remains attractively valued at 9.5x 2018 earnings and 1.0x book value compared with 11.5x and 1.8x respectively for MSCI EM. Conviction remains high with 88% of the portfolio in our 35 largest positions, which have a weighted upside of 33%.
