Performance Commentary

Despite October ending in a rally, it was a brutal month for both EM and developed market equities. Kon-Tiki fared better than both as our value philosophy finally seems to be coming back into fashion. Brazilian equities and the currency gained on optimism around the victory of market friendly Bolsonaro in the presidential election. Our Brazilian holdings were also the top contributors in October. While we continue to like the recovery story of Banrisul, we reduced the position on strength. The Brazilian conglomerate Cosan announced a group simplification exercise which lifted the stock. The Brazilian meat processor Marfrig benefited from the transition towards better capital allocation discipline and lower indebtedness. On the negative side, Naspers was weak on the back of regulatory uncertainty for Tencent. Our South Korean holdings also struggled. Hyundai, which we continued to trim over the summer, reported weak results yet again. We are encouraged by signs of a shift in market dynamics with value stocks once again outperforming in an environment more conducive to our investment philosophy. With a portfolio trading at around 8x 2019e P/E, and EM equities at 10x, we believe equity valuations have now fallen to levels which give rise to good buying opportunities for long-term investors.

The fund selects low-priced, high-quality companies, mainly in emerging economies.

The objective is to provide the best possible risk adjusted return.

The fund is suitable for those with at least a five year investment horizon.
